

Westminster Abbey Celebration - World Thinking Day 2010

This Centenary event will be held at Westminster Abbey on Saturday 27 February 2010 at 11.00am and will be a 'celebration' of the foresight and enthusiasm of leaders who, for 100 years, have ensured that guiding has moved with the times and the values that have been shared with each successive generation of girls and young women.

This will be an intergenerational event and groups are encouraged to include all members of the movement including Trefoil Guild in their ticket application.

To apply for tickets please complete the application form below.

The deadline for applications is 1 December 2009. Applications for tickets received after this date will only be considered if there are spaces remaining.

Successful applicants will be drawn at random from the applications received by 1 December and those that include a cross-section of members will be given priority.

Please be aware that:

- The service itself is free of charge however, participants will be asked to make a donation which will be shared between Westminster Abbey and a charity chosen by Girlguiding UK.
- Please ensure that all tickets applied for are used - they are transferable & can be returned - many are disappointed each year and yet seats are empty on the day.
- To ensure all Sections are represented separate adult and child tickets will be issued.
- Completing this form does not guarantee you tickets for the event.
- Leaders are responsible for ensuring correct Leader to girl ratios.

This form can be downloaded from the members' area of www.girlguiding.org.uk
